

I want the FCC to have rules that assure that local stations are not aced out by big mega-stations originating nowhere near the local community that they serve. The local community has to be guaranteed that they are getting wide and indepth news about the events and decisions being made around them, so they can have input to influence events and decision makers.